All Things Bright and Beautiful

pages 12 - 69

Paul Campbell, student council president, says hi to some visitors at the District Student Council Convention.

The mascot eagle is always a favorite attraction to the younger members of our community.

As the sun sinks on Sullivan, the bright and beautiful students prepare for performances in sports, music, and drama as well as participate in some of the club activities offered at SHS.

When a student walks into Sullivan High School, he has in his grasp a multitude of opportunities and activities. SHS has at least one activity which will appeal to each student. Whether or not a student takes advantage of these activities is up to him.

From football and weightlifting, to choir and band, to FFA and drama, SHS has many "bright and beautiful" things to offer its many students.

TOP: In the fall play, "Twain Tales," Brian Lawrence and Jennifer McDonald portray two of Twain's most famous characters, Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher. RIGHT: It takes setters like Doris Mincemeyer and spikers like Beth Schmidt to make a team work.

Some football players take a minute to give the camera a smile before they return to the field to defend an eagle lead.

TOP: Cheryl Lawrence leads the SHS Marching Band during the annual homecoming parade. LEFT: As student council treasurer, Chad Johnson has many responsibilities including rolling the soda machine money. RIGHT: Karen Barth performs her prose reading at the Orchesis show. She was involved in many other activities including participation in the Junior Miss program. Karen was crowned the Sullivan Area's Junior Miss bringing this title back to SHS.

All Creatures Great and Small

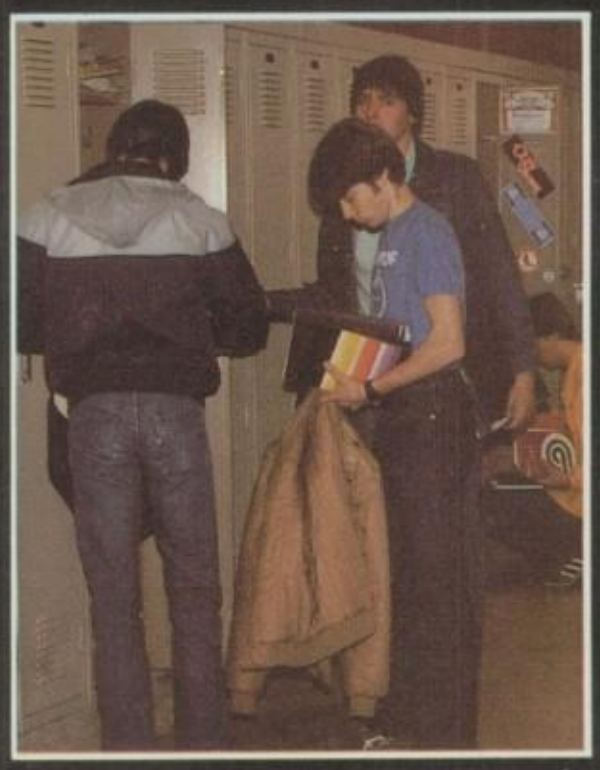
pages 70 - 115

"Great and small" has two aspects. One is age. The great are the seniors. Their leadership and experience give them the ability to make SAS great. The small are the underclassmen who have yet to fully enjoy high school.

The second aspect depends on how students utilize their talents and surroundings. Leaders and followers play important parts and each have reason to be proud.

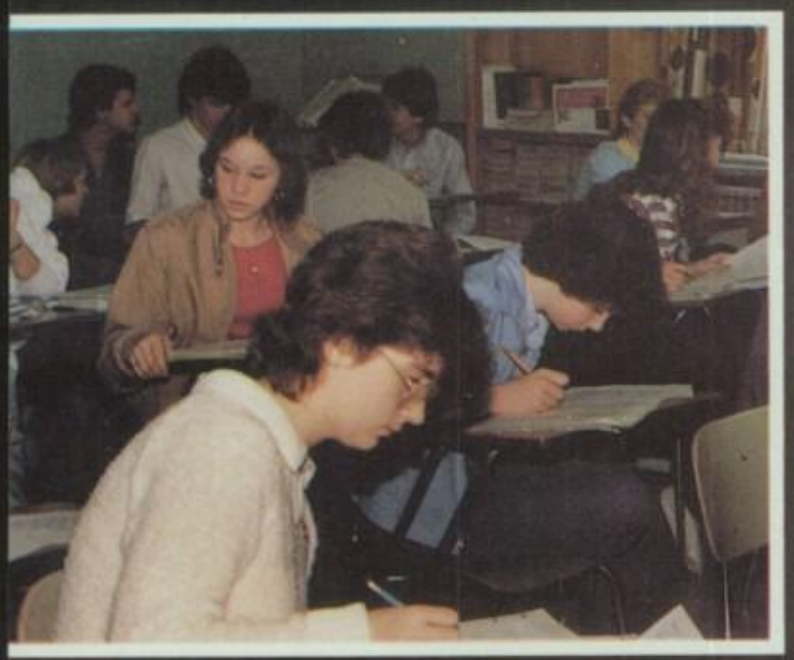
Different ages, leaders, and followers combine to illustrate "great and small."

Shelly Pryor has a "great" voice and was selected to All-State Choir.



Dave Neff stops by his locker to get his accounting books.

Kris Guerrant, like other seniors, takes advantage of the part-time attendance program.



TOP: Mrs. Busch's English I class is shown working hard to get their assignments done. RIGHT: Debbie Pfeiffer shows her spirit by wearing beach clothes during basketball homecoming week.

After finishing their bicycle race in the orchesis show, Beth, Laurie, Anne, and Charlene have plenty of smiles to go around.

Rodney Stack takes a break from his hectic publication's schedule.

Sharon Burke and Cheri Berti look at a questionnaire concerning next year's seven hour day.

Members of Concert Choir watch closely as another group performs.

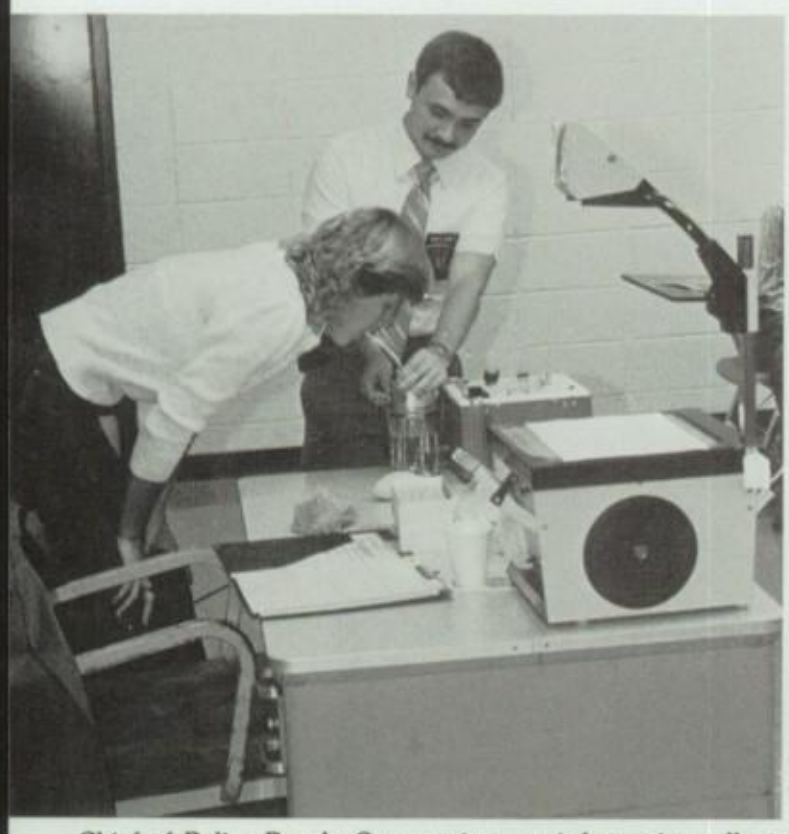
All Things Wise and Wonderful

pages 116 - 156

Miss Reichardt's classes are fun but also demanding.



Chief of Police Randy Counts gives an informative talk on alcohol abuse. Lisa Juergens demonstrates how to use a breathalizer.

Mr. Schaefferkoetter often invites guest speakers to talk about health related topics. Here, students are listening about drug abuse.

Students make up the largest percentage of the population, but there is a smaller percentage that often goes unnoticed. The reason for the success of SHS is mainly due to this small percent made up of the teachers and the administration.

The faculty's hard work and dedication make the learning process for the students much easier. An SHS student can rely on the fact that his teachers care and are doing everything possible to shape his life into something meaningful. Because of the hard work and wisdom of the teachers, it is easy to see that SHS has many "wise and wonderful" things.

TOP: Even though Connie Belew is very busy, she always has a friendly smile for everyone. RIGHT: Mr. Riggs looks on with a judge's eye as the homecoming parade passes him.

These students in Ms. Hagan's English II class study about literature and about some famous authors.

TOP: Mr. Brueseke, Mr. Carter, Mr. Dudley, and Mr. Almany relax during sixth hour while they are entertained at a student council assembly. LEFT: Mr. Sassman illustrates how a teacher's job can be trying and tiring. RIGHT: Mr. Largent is very involved in the social science department. This year he chaperoned the Close-Up trip to Washington, D.C. and also held a mock trial.

SHS Has It All

SHS is much more than an average American high school. SHS has built a reputation to be proud of. The school is always a consistent leader.

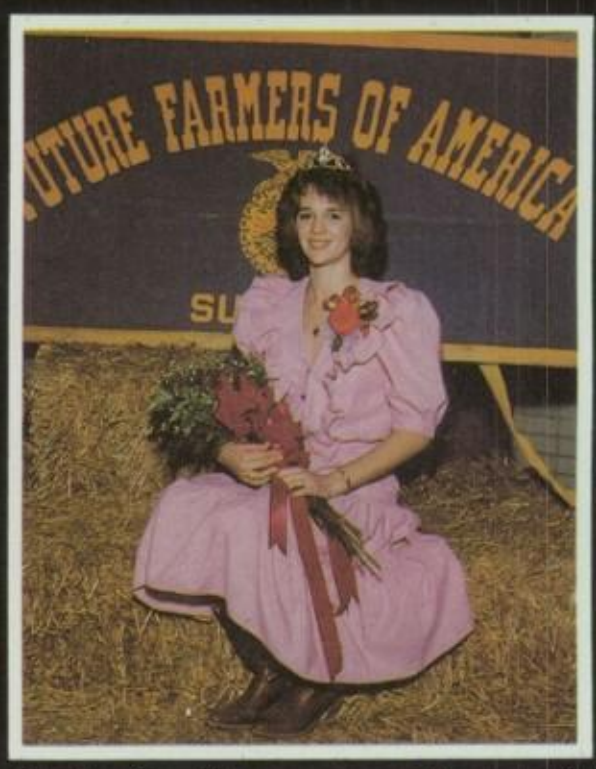
Another reason that SHS is much more than average is because it combines people with many different interests.

Many successes at SHS can be traced to the sponsors. SHS boasts a staff that cares and works for the students' benefit.

All of this can best be summed up in one simple statement. SHS has it all!

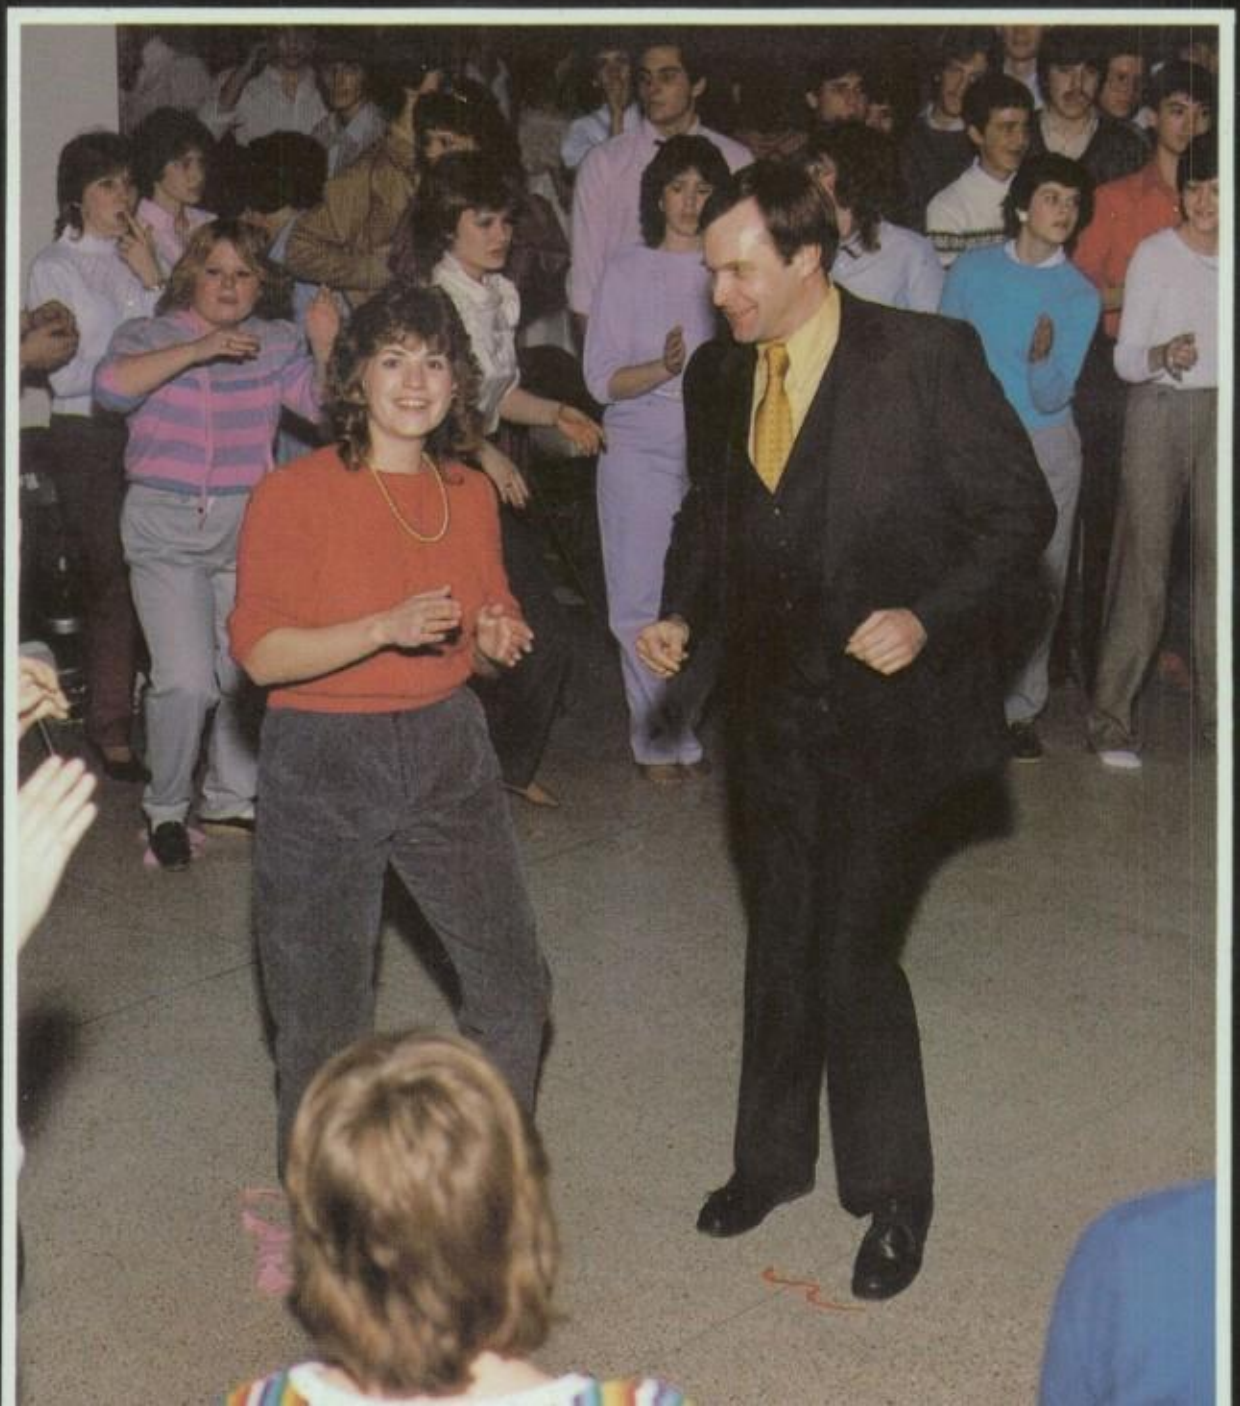
John McDonald sits back and watches the junior class officers conduct a meeting.

Mrs. Camp is the sponsor of the new Foreign Language Club.

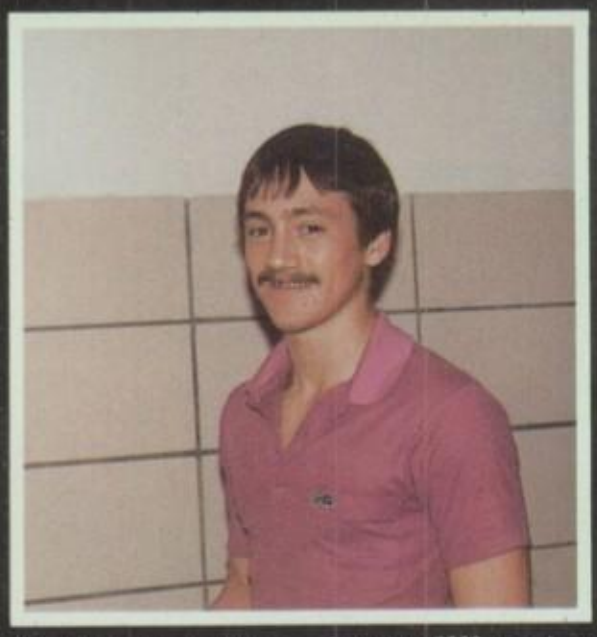


Annette Tourville was crowned barnwarmin' queen.

TOP: The SHS Marching Band entertained the spectators at the home football games as well as participated in marching competitions. RIGHT: Liz Lowery and Mr. Schaefferkoetter are the center of attention during a dance at basketball homecoming.



The girls' cross-country team starts together at the annual cross-country meet at Sullivan.



Gary Mastin is doing a favorite SHS pastime, walking the halls.

Mark Jones makes a jump shot to help the J.V. on to a victory.

Bomber, John, Mark and Andy prepare their case for the mock trial.

The 1984 Eagle is dedicated to . . .

Miss Pat Bryan

Miss Pat Bryan has taught at Sullivan High School for 19 years. This year her class schedule consists of three typing classes, shorthand, and Business Law. Her tests are often long and somewhat diffficult, and her classroom is run in an orderly fashion.

Then why do so many students choose Miss Bryan as their favorite teacher? One of the reasons could be that she not only teaches from the books, but she also shows them how the knowledge they've gained can be useful later in life. Another reason could be that she has the ability to motivate students.

The students accept the information she gives them and, more often than not, ask questions pertaining to that subject so they can learn more. Each person has a desire to learn, and Miss Bryan brings out this desire in her students.

During her years at SHS, Miss Bryan sponsored the yearbook for 17 years. For her dedication to her students and the yearbook, the Eagle Staff is very proud to dedicate the 1984 Eagle to Miss Pat Bryan.

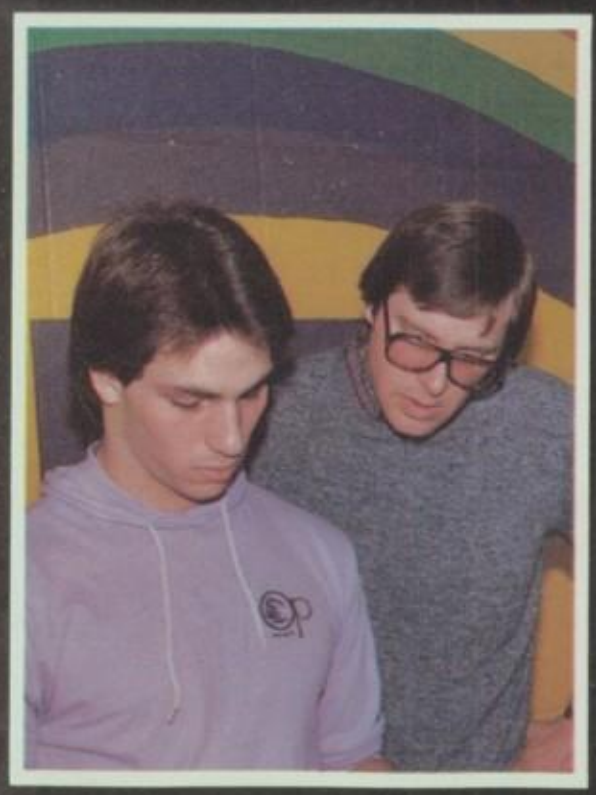
Student Council Leads the Way

Gayle Stack is at a committee meeting after the regular student council meeting.



Paul and Mr. Becherer look over some papers after the student council meeting.

Student Council was busy this year. As district student council president, they hosted the district convention.

Student Council sponsored many assemblies including a multi-media Camfel production called "Dreammaker." They organized the homecomings and held many other activities.

Preparations began months ahead of time. Plans were made for the parade, assembly, election, dance, and coronation. Each parade entry carried out the theme of cartoons.

Friday was filled with excitement. Classes were dismissed early for an assembly.

That night, at halftime, silence fell on the crowd as the candidates, attendants, and escorts took their places. Tension mounted. The long-awaited time had arrived. Finally, the winner was announced. The football homecoming queen is Miss Anne Rhoads.

Anne rode in a convertible in the parade which started at the skating rink and ended at the City Hall.

Anne and Tony each have big smiles after the coronation ceremony.

FFA worked many long, hard hours, and their work paid off as their float placed first in the homecoming parade.

The homecoming dance gave students a chance to enjoy some music and to get away from the regular school routine.

With the help of Spiderman, the choir entry placed first in the truck division.

For some, basketball homecoming was the highlight of the winter months. After cold temperatures and snow, homecoming week finally rolled around.

The week was filled with different activities designed to raise the spirit at SHS.

Friday night, between the J.V. and varsity games, the coronation began. Each candidate, attendant, and escort was introduced. Then, before a packed gym, the winner was announced. The basketball homecoming queen is Miss Chara Cuneio.

The FFA had a wonderful year which was highlighted by the annual Barnwarmin'. Annette Tourville was crowned queen of the Barnwarmin' and her escort was Dennis Knehans. The music for the dance was provided by Wild Country.

The FFA received many awards and gained much recognition during the year. Many of the FFA teams won at district contests and went on to the state contest. Seven teams qualified for the state contest.

Finally, the Sullivan FFA Chapter hosted the Area Barnwarmin'. Lonna Hardecke, the FFA president, was selected as the Area Barnwarmin' Queen. Lonna also was selected as a state vice president.

National Honor Society members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. The selection process begins by placing the names of all juniors and seniors who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better on a list. This list is given to the teachers. They vote for the students who best exhibit the other qualities. After the votes are tallied, a selection committee makes final decisions and announces the new NHS members.

Activities Center Around Student Council

Student Council this year has achieved its purposes and with great success Student Council sponsored the homecoming activities, the Icebreaker dance, a contribution to Unicef, and several assemblies including Camfel's multi-media production, "Dreammaker."

This year, we also had the privilege of hosting the Southcentral District Student Council Convention. I would like to thank everyone for the effort put into the convention.

In closing, I would like to first thank everyone for their support. Student Council president isn't a position of fun. It is work, and I thank all those who helped me. Also, I would like to thank our sponsors, Mrs. Hagan and Mr. Becherer, for all their help.

Finally, to next year's Student Council and student body, good luck in all you strive to do.

Senior Superlatives

Outstanding means the top. Reaching new heights. Being kind, caring, and lending a hand to those about you.

Chris and Paul have personalities and winning ways that make them our model and example. They're SHS finest sample.

Most Outstanding
Chris Hutchison and Paul Campbell

Humorous means wit; knowing how to ease a moment of tension — accomplishing this in methods too outrageous to mention.

Rodney, Roo, and Lisa brighten our days and keep us all carefree. And long after our high school days, the memory of their laughter will stay.

Most Humorous
Rodney Underdown, Roo Stack, and Lisa Juergens

Most Friendly
Jill Benton and Chara Cuneio

Friendly means a laugh,
a smile for those you meet.
Joking and talking lively —
Jill and Chara are really sweet.

They're so much fun to be around between the "hello's" and "good-bye's."
The adjectives happy and cheery describe them best.
Charisma will place them above the rest.

Most Artistic
Frank Reed and Madonna Thurmond

Artistic means creating,
adding beauty to our lives.
Madonna and Frank can do this.
Paint, draw, and sketch, besides.

They can make, mold, and shape;
with this talent they will excel.
Such an attribute will allow them
a lifetime of pleasure as well.

Most Athletic
Tony LaValle and Tracie Johanning

Athletic means practice, practice, practice in anticipation of that big game.
Always striving to achieve more,
in search of glory and fame.

Tony and Tracie are our athletic pair.
Working their way to victory.
In their triumphs we all share
Here, at SHS.

Countrified means baling hay,
and summers in the sun.
Doing lots of work,
and having lots of fun.

FFA and Barnwarmin'
highlight the country year.
Because Jesse and Lonna have such promise and pride,
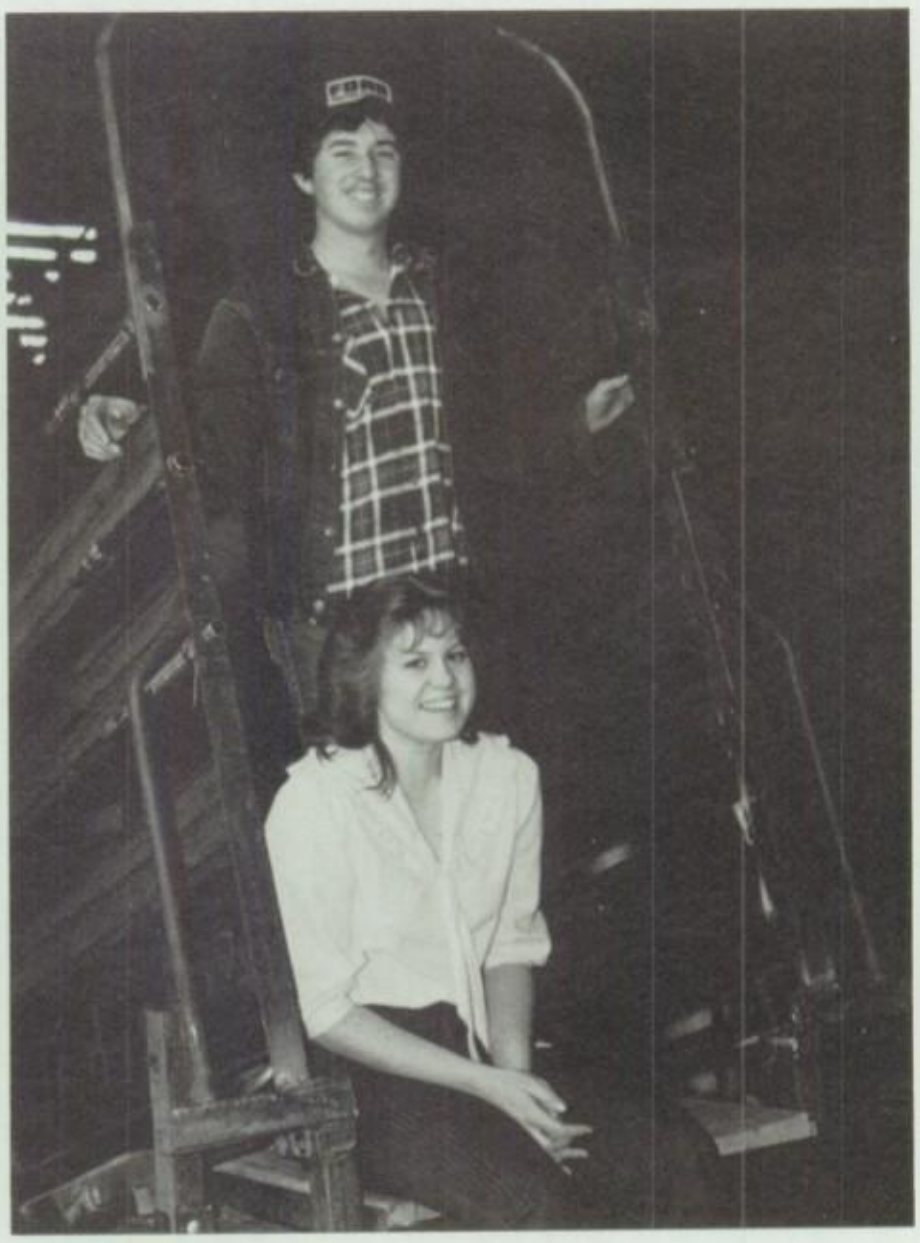
Agriculture might become their career.



Most Countrified
Lonna Hardecke and Jesse Schatz

Most Spirited
Tammy Conrad and Christie Stack

Spirited means our class,
and a personal effort to build the class of 84 into one no others could surpass.

Appreciation and gratitude are what we give to you.
Thank you Christie and Tammy,
for caring
and doing all you do.

Musical means a song.
Preparing for a concert or contest.
Or quietly relaxing
with an individual favorite,
seeking rest.

Chris and Cheri are our musical ones
and can be found in the band or choir room.
Music such as their beautiful sounds
can have no bounds.

Most Musical
Chris Hutchison and Cheri Berti

Most Scholarly
Anne Rhoads and Cheri Berti

Scholarly means studying.
Always finding time
to do homework,
in addition to
other activities at school.
Being at the top
of the class is a rule.

Cheri and Anne give an extra effort and remember
the things they learn.
The compelling love of learning they possess
will surely grant them
much success.

Theatrical means
bright stage lights.
Below, Phil and Karen shine.
Fighting butterflies
on opening night —
searching for a line.

The script is the guide
by which they perform.
Produced by them
are new roles.
The acting ability
they possess
is a mirror of the soul.

Most Theatrical

As sophomores, these students experienced many different activities. They held two car washes, sold jewelry, and had many successful bake sales. In school and out of school, these students had fun. Probably the most memorable time of year was turning sixteen. It seems school is a lot more fun when you drive. And these students had the drive to make it a successful sophomore year.

The New Generation Has The Beef

The freshmen officers, seen here, seem to have the luck of the Irish as they lead their classmates from one successful event to another.

Freshmen Officers

President - Chuck Cuneio
Vice President - Matt Weiskopf
Treasurer - Eric Stack
Secretary - Mike Anderson
Sponsor - Mrs. Mary Busch

Through the course of high school life, a student passes through several stages. The first of these stages is, of course, the freshman year.

What a year it is! From the first bewildering days of September, to the final moments of May, the class of 87 grew and matured through freshman year experiences.

When the class of 87 finally graduates, they'll remember it all started in 1984.

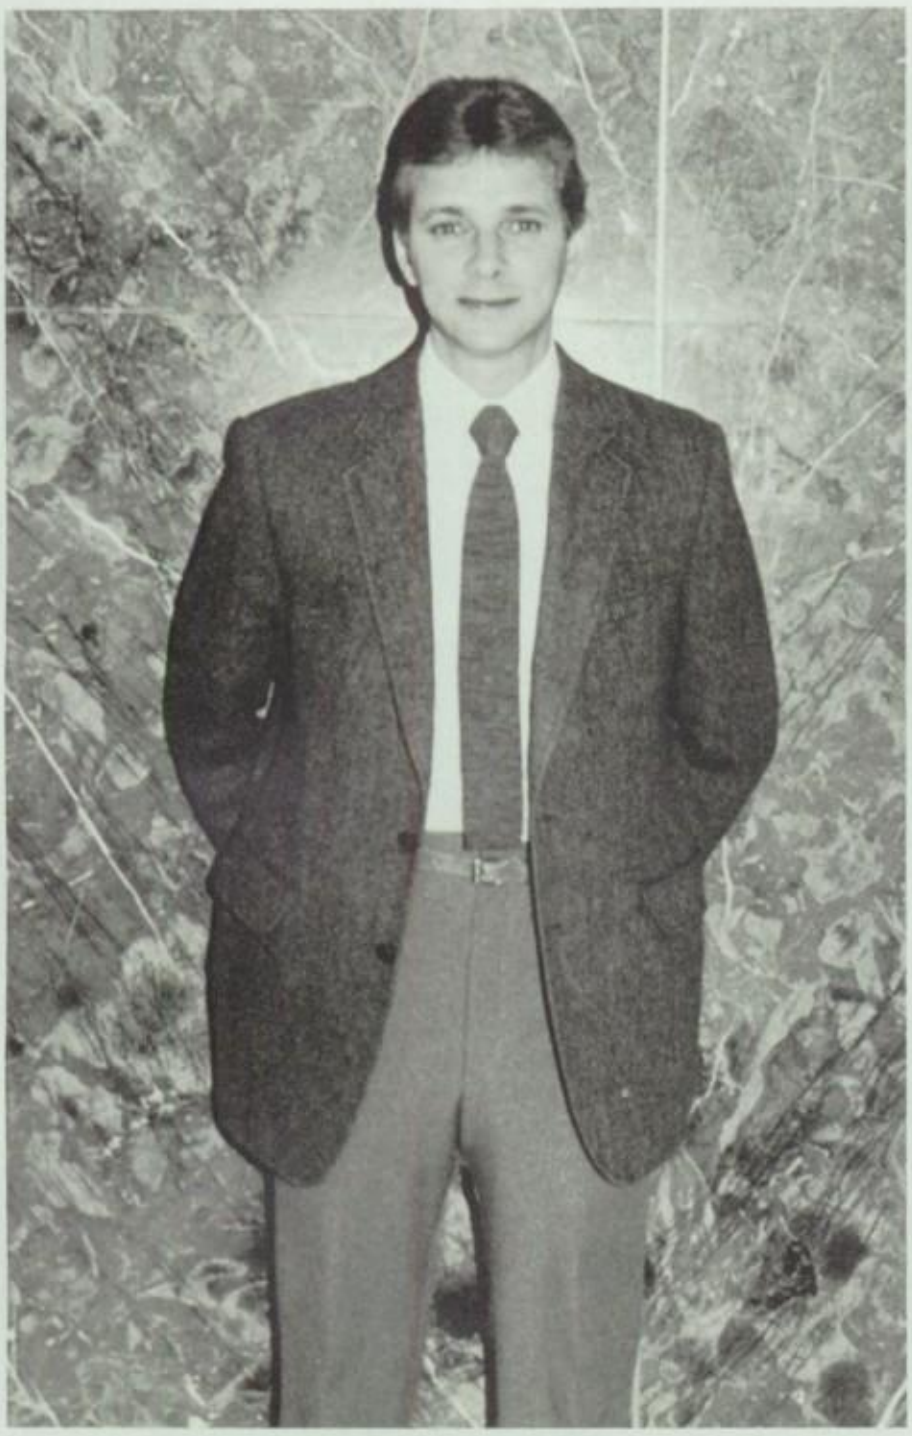
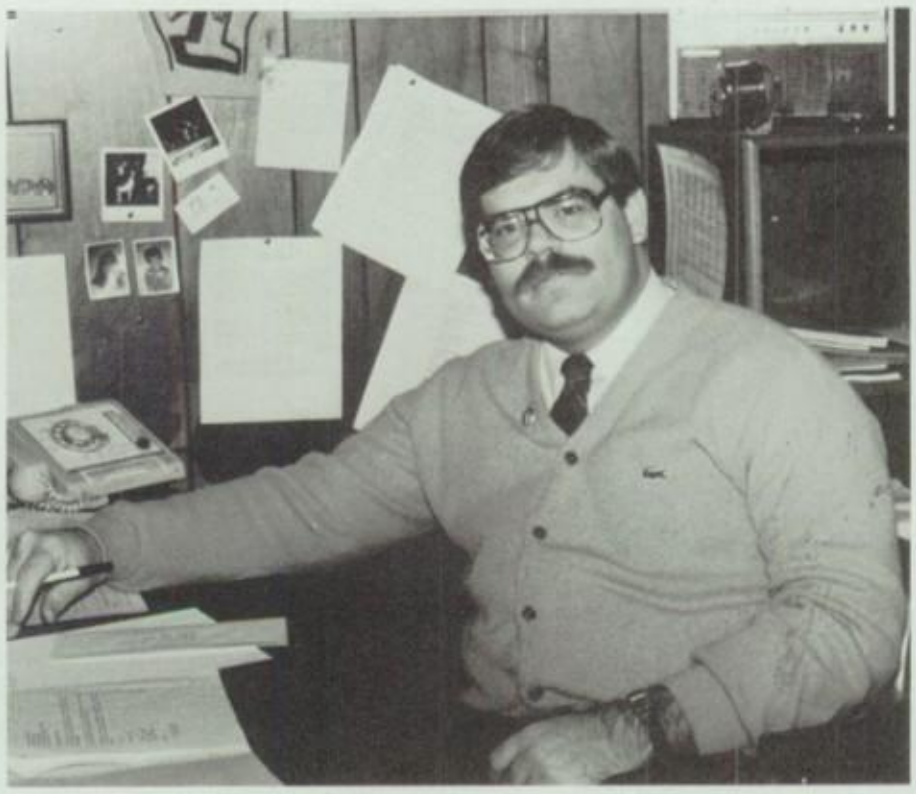
All Things Wise and Wonderful

Administrators Guide Us Through Another Year



Mr. Keith Kinder, Principal



Mr. Marty Riggs, Assistant Principal

Mr. Kinder spoke at the NHS initiation ceremony.

Mr. Riggs was a judge for the football homecoming parade.

Reaching for Excellence in Education

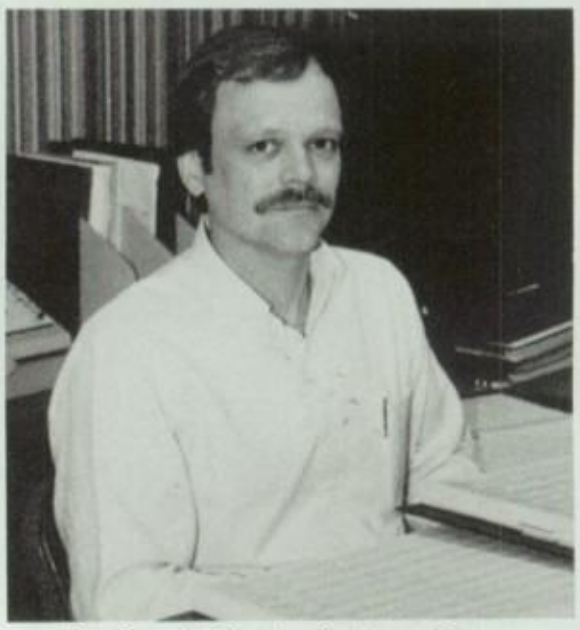
Mr. James K. Tice, Superintendent

Mr. Jim McDonald, Assistant Superintendent

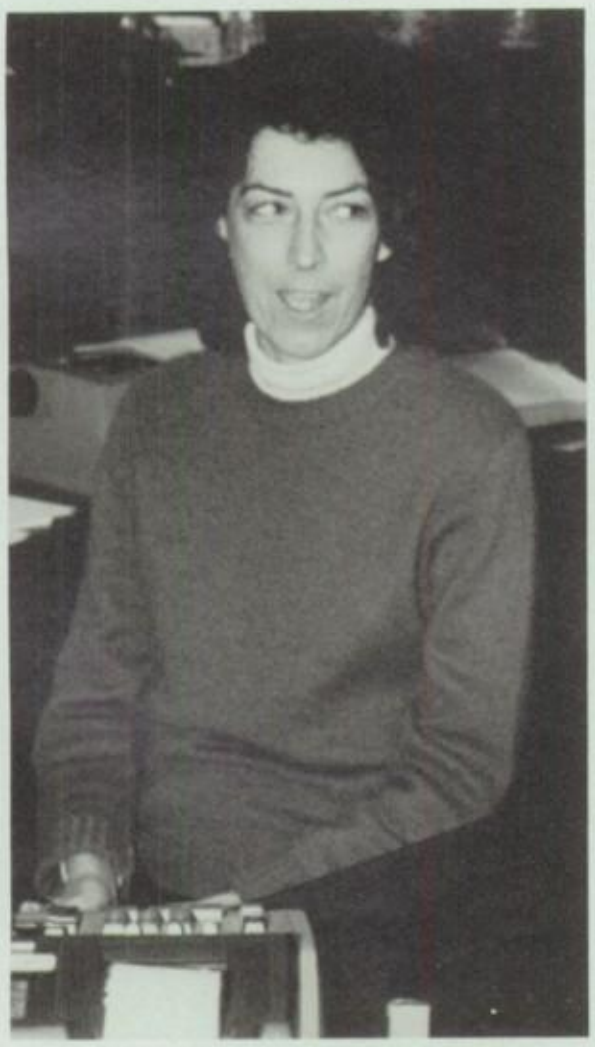


Mr. Ronnie Mastin, Business Manager

Connie Belew, High School

Kitty Dougherty, High School

Lisa Almany, High School



Jean Montgomery, Central Office

Sandy Koenig, Central Office

Sharon Wesley, Central Office

Secretaries Keep the Offices in Order

The Finishing Touches are Added

Mr. John Craig, counselor, makes sure that students do not get behind on their credits.

Mr. Andrew Benage, one of Sullivan's counselors.

There are certain aspects which set off fine schools from others of lesser caliber. These include the counselors, librarian, and other much needed, but less glamorized, jobs of filling in when others are sick or incapacitated, and keeping a watchful eye over those who feel the need to break the rules. It takes special people to fill in these finishing touches.

Mrs. Rosetta Bohenkamp works hard as the in-school-suspension monitor.

Mrs. Bernice Shaffer, librarian, has a book for every occasion.

Mr. Ron Belew, the senior counselor.

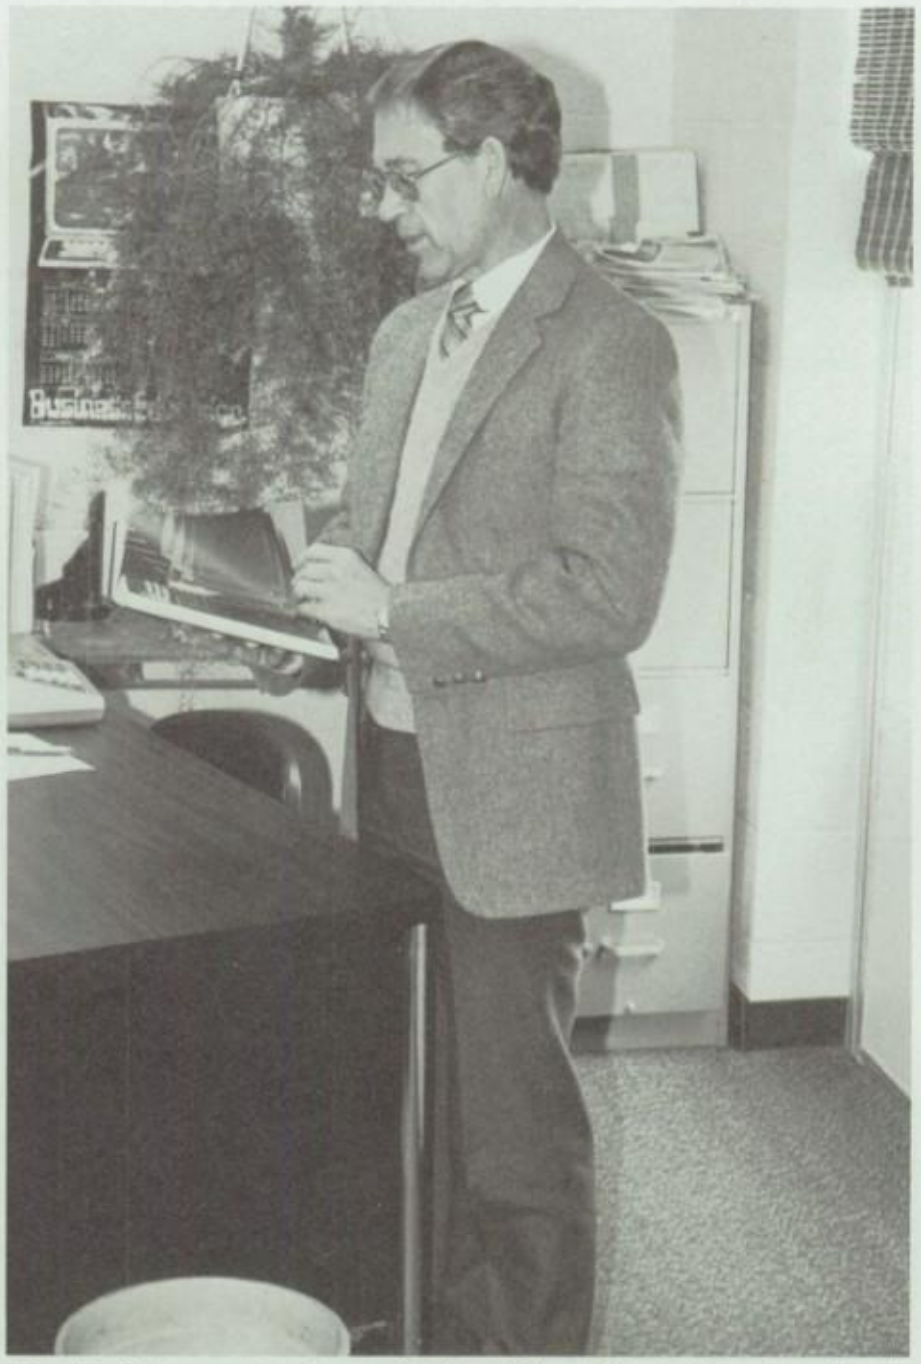
Mr. Kenneth Sassman is Sullivan's number one pinch hitter and also keeps a study hall.

The Business Department Takes Account

John dreams of the day when he will be able to retire his typing finger.

Miss Pat Bryan teaches Typing, Business Law, and Shorthand.

Mrs. Linda Minnegerode teaches Consumer Education, General Business, and Typing.



Mr. J.L. Carter teaches Accounting I and II and Clerical Practice. He also co-sponsors National Honor Society.

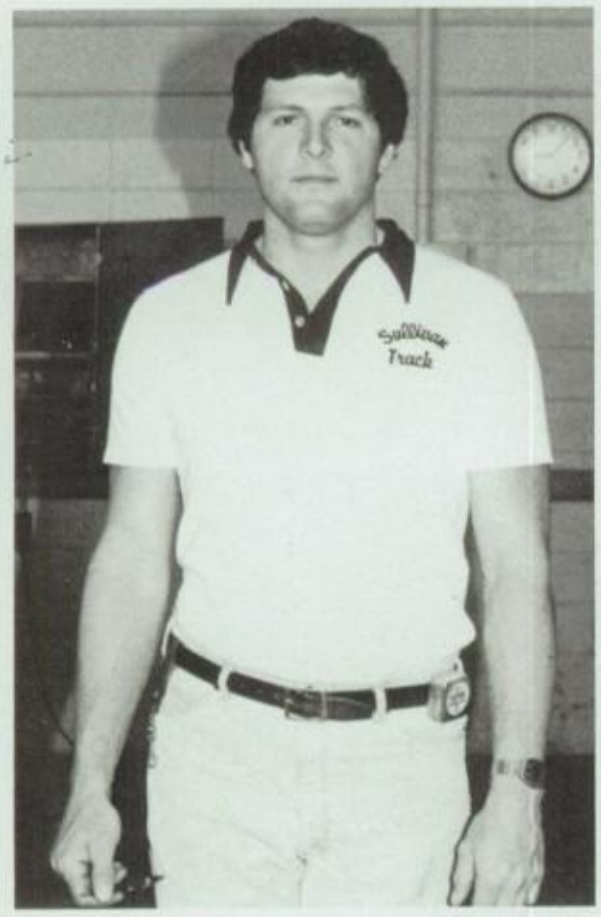
Building for a Better Future

Industrial Arts help students to build a better future. The classes offered are General Shop, Drafting, Metal Working, Power Mechanics, Woodworking, and Building Trades I and II. Mr. Dean Wigger is the Building Trades teacher. Mr. Stan Kurka and Mr. Rick Brauer teach the shop classes. Even with computers, man and his knowledge are still needed.

Tim Isgrigg is in deep thought as he takes a make-up test.

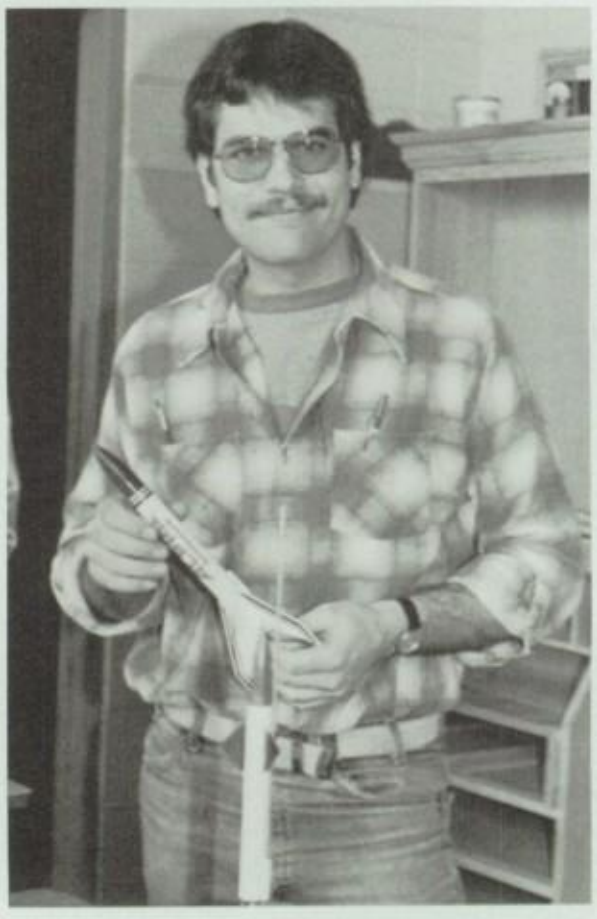
Spectators gather to watch the shop class shoot off the rockets they made.

Robin Nonnenkamp constructs an Easter basket.



Mr. Stan Kurka, Football Coach/Track Coach.

Mr. Dean Wigger



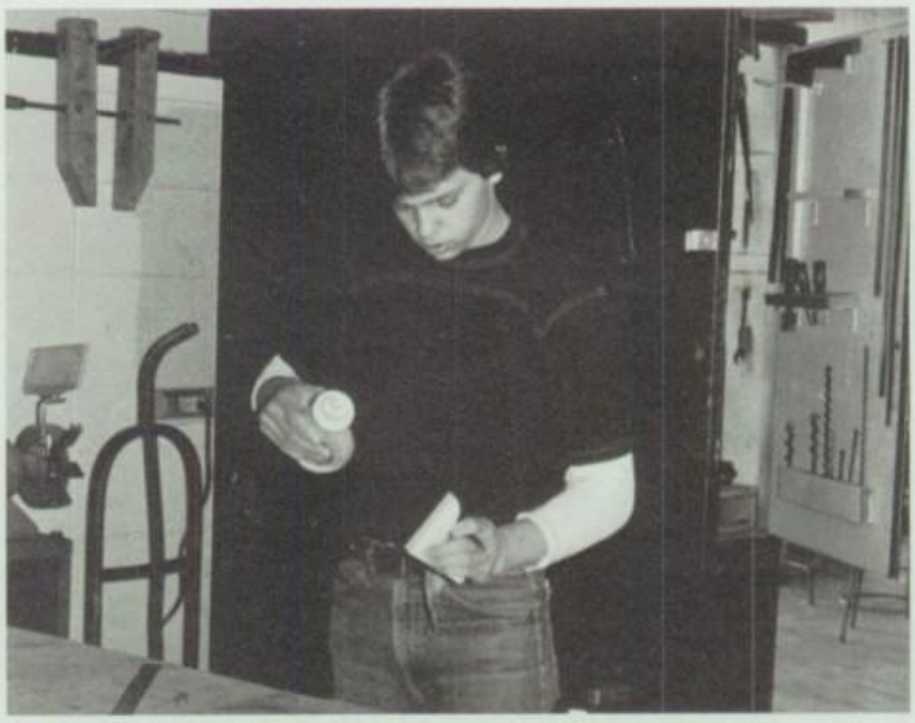
Mr. Rick Brauer

Mr. Roy Kramme

Mr. Amos Freeman

Mrs. Mary Ruble, National Honor Society Sponsor

Tammy Conrad enjoys another day in Home Ec.



Kendall Beckett glues his shelf together in shop.

Many home economics classes were offered this year; Family Meals, Wardrobe Planning, Housing and Interior Design, and Child Development. These classes are taught by Mrs. Mary Ruble.

Mr. Kramme and Mr. Freeman teach in the Ag Department. Their classes include Plant Science, Ag Construction I, Farm Management/Soil, Animal Science, and Small Engines.

Home In and/or On the Range

Language Arts Classes Teach Communication

The Language Arts Department teaches students the proper way to communicate, whether it is in English, Spanish, or French.

The Language Arts Department includes such classes as English I, II, and III, American Literature, English Literature, Publications, Expository Writing, Rhetoric and Research, Creative Writing, Power Reading, Advanced Vocabulary and Grammar, Spanish I and II, French I and II, Speech, and Drama.

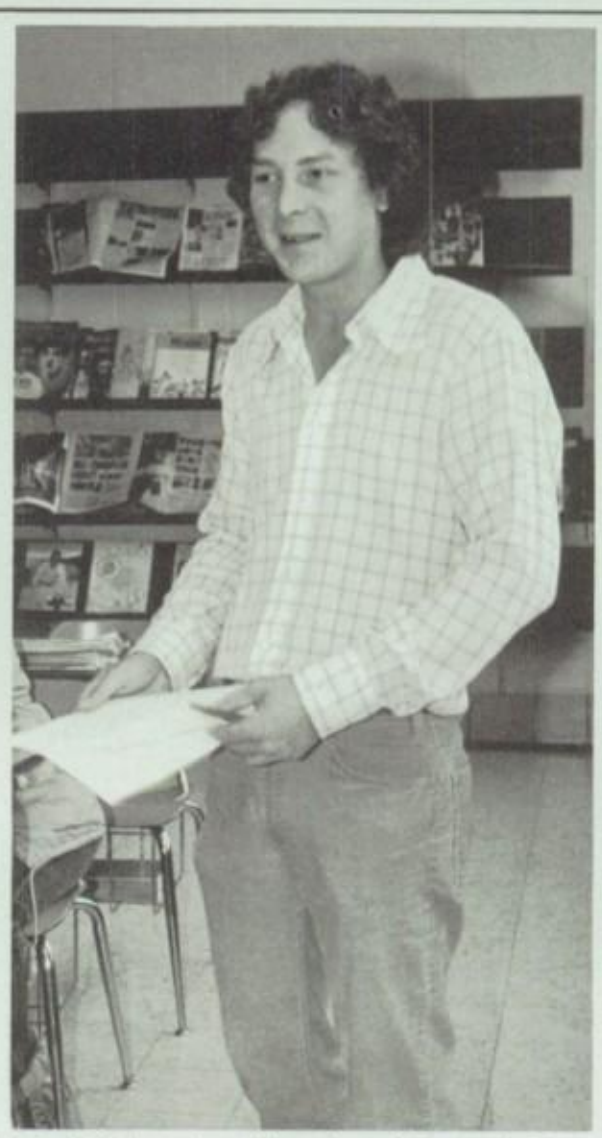
Mrs. Mary Busch; English I, English II, Vocabulary and Grammar/Power Reading, Orchesis sponsor, Freshman Class sponsor.

Mr. Russell Becherer; English Department Chairman, English I, English II, speech, drama, speech team co-sponsor, drama club sponsor, Student Council co-sponsor.

Miss Patti Lincecum; English I, English II, English III, Practical English/Functional Reading, Sophomores Class sponsor.

Mrs. Evelyn Camp; French I, French II, Spanish I, Spanish II, Sophomore Class sponsor, Foreign Language Club sponsor.

Mrs. Pam Hagan; English II, Publications, Expository Writing, English Literature, yearbook sponsor, Student Council co-sponsor.

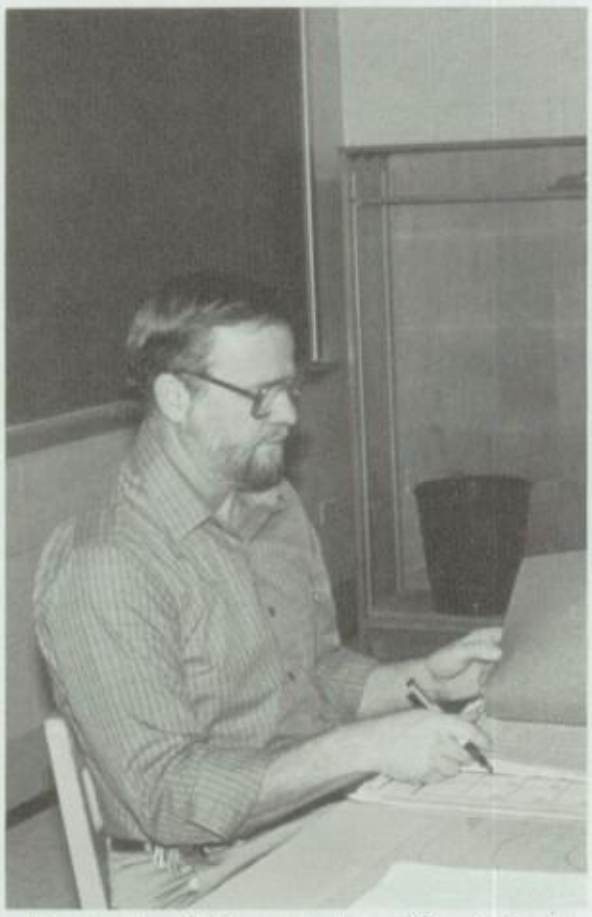


Mr. Jeff Sartorious; Rhetoric and Research/Creative Writing, English II, English III, speech team co-sposnor.

Mrs. Hagan's Englsih II class learns by reading literature written by English and American authors.

English II brings smiles to the faces of Suzanne Thompson and Joannie Dieckhaus.

Math and Science Departments Disc



Mr. Randy Dudley; Algebra I/Track Coach

Ms. Linda Reichardt; Math I/Algebra II/Girls Basketball/Computers

Ms. Dorothy Borreson; Math II/ Math Analysis/Computers

To Missy and Stacey, math is no laughing matter.

Angel discovers the amazing world of computers.

The Sullivan High School Math Department offers a wide range of math courses. These include Math I, Math II, Algebra I, Algebra II, Math Analysis, and Geometry. SHS also offers computer classes.

These classes help students develop the ability to think and reason for themselves, an ability which is importnat in everyday life.

Tracey and Lisa find geometry a "measure" of their skills.

the World and its Mysteries

Mrs. Marcene Abel; Geometry/Physics/Math Department Head

Mr. Ken Manwarring; General Science/Girls Track

Mr. Ray Brueseke; IPS/IPS II/Chemistry/ Biology/Science Department Head

Danny is hard at work on his math.

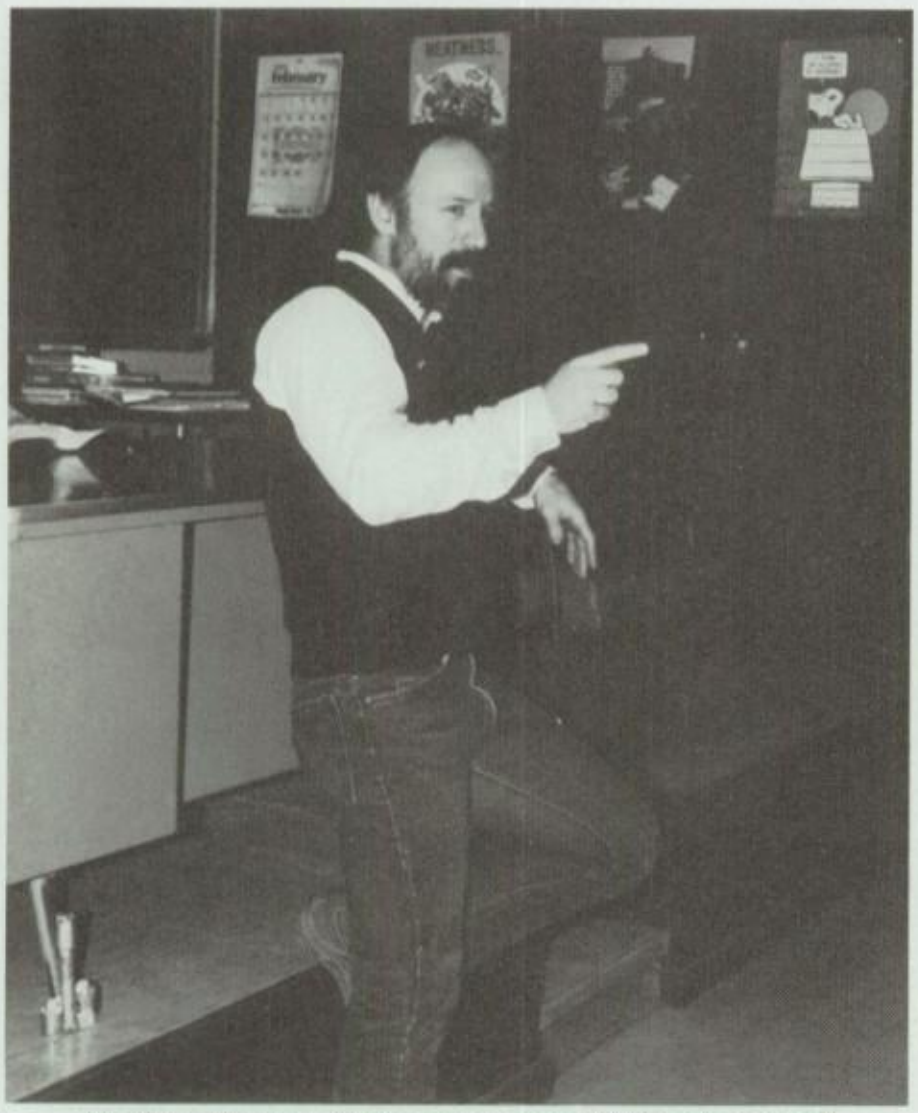
Mr. Brueseke points out a few facts for Emily in chemistry.

Bill and Cliff find chemistry very enthralling.

Nature is all around us, and the world is constantly changing. The Sullivan High School Science Department helps students discover and learn more about this changing world.

Such courses as General Science, IPS I, IPS II, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry, help students learn more about the world which surrounds them.

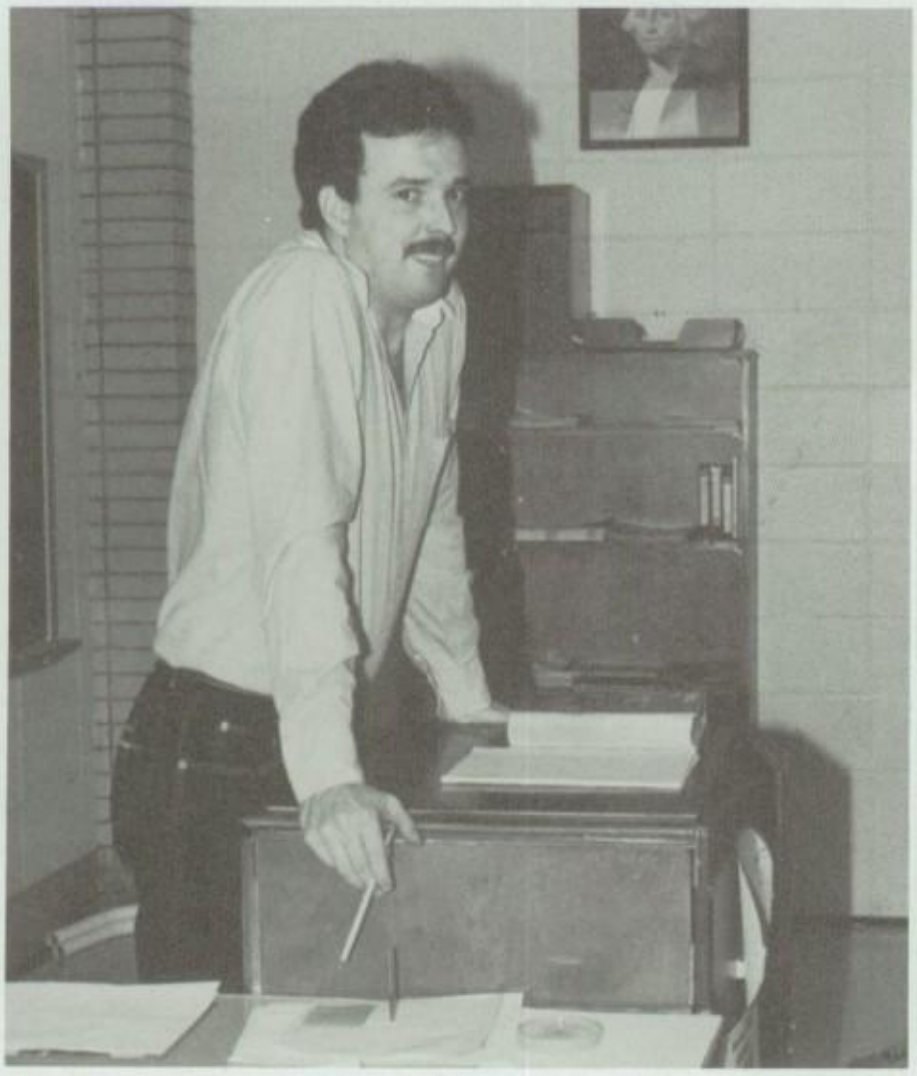
Social Sciences Explore Man and his Mind.



Mr. Dave Largent, Contemporary Issues/ISS/Baseball Coach

Elizabeth, Stacey, and Nikki work hard on their ISS.

Gina becomes deeply engrossed in her ISS.



Mr. David Almany, American History/Basketball/Track/Cross Country Coach.

The Honorable Judge Largent presided at the Contemporary Issues court case.

History is in the Making

Mr. Tom Bennett, Social Studies/Dept. Head/American History/ Sociology/Photo Club/Close Up

Ms. Debbie Derryberry, ISS/Psychology

Group discussion is important for understanding world events.

Kendall and Robert are hard at work on their history.

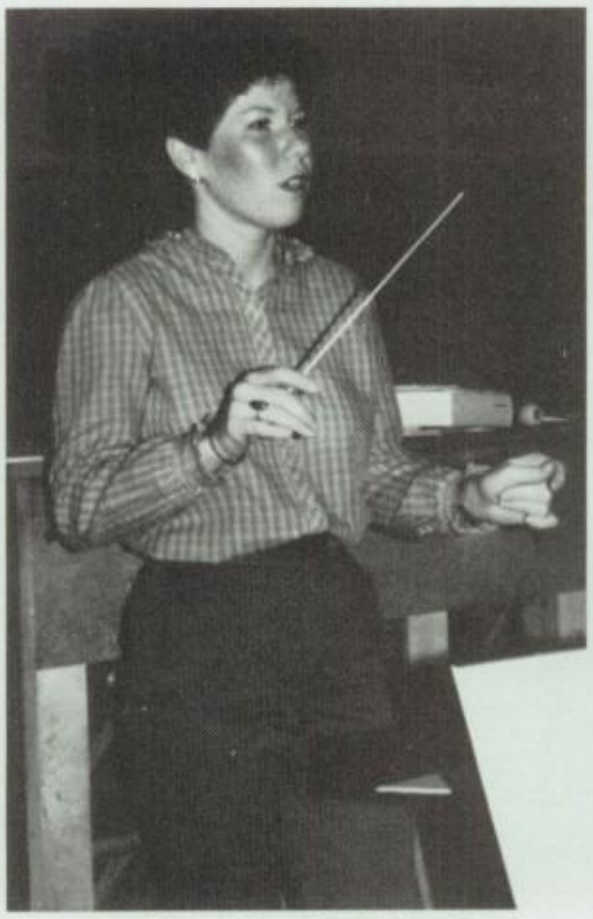
Freshmen are deep in thought as they learn about their heritage in American history.

The SHS Social Science Department offers such courses as American History, World Cultures, Psychology, Sociology, Introductory to Social Science, Contemporary Issues, and Geography.

By taking these courses, the students of SHS can learn more about the history of their own country, more about the world around them, and, even more importantly, they can learn something about themselves.

Fine Arts Teachers Keep Music and Art Alive

Ms. Monica Moffet, Art/Art Club



Ms. Mary Kelley, Band/Jazz Band

Mrs. Deanna Spurgeon, Choir/Pop Choir Eaglettes

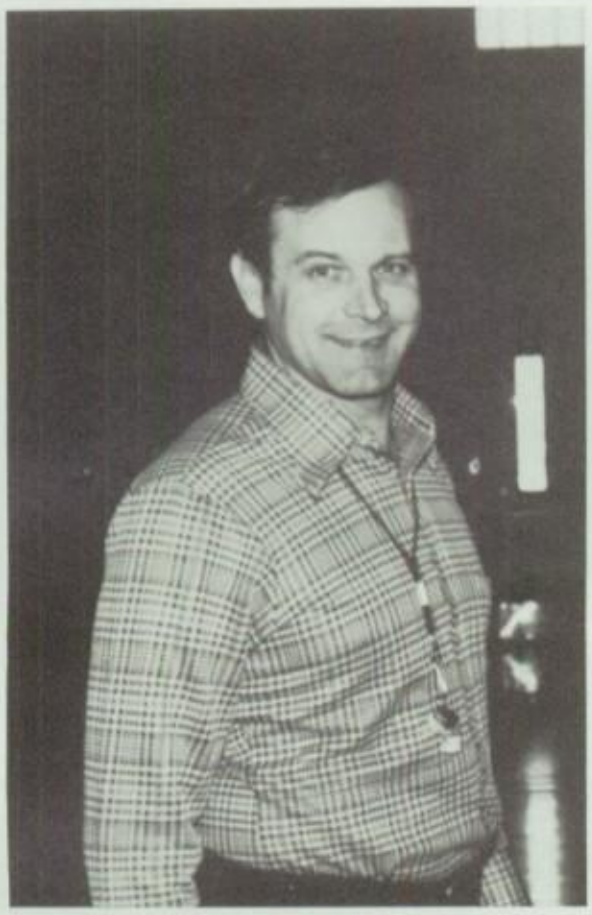
Art proves hard work for Lenny, David, Andy, and Dave.

Mr. Larry Smith, Band/Department Head

SHS offers such fine arts courses as Concert Band, Marching Band, Art I, Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, Girls Chorus, and Graphics. The fine arts department also offers extras like a marching band competition in Warrensburg, a pop choir competition in Springfield, and two art shows. Indeed, the fine arts department keeps music and art alive at SHS.

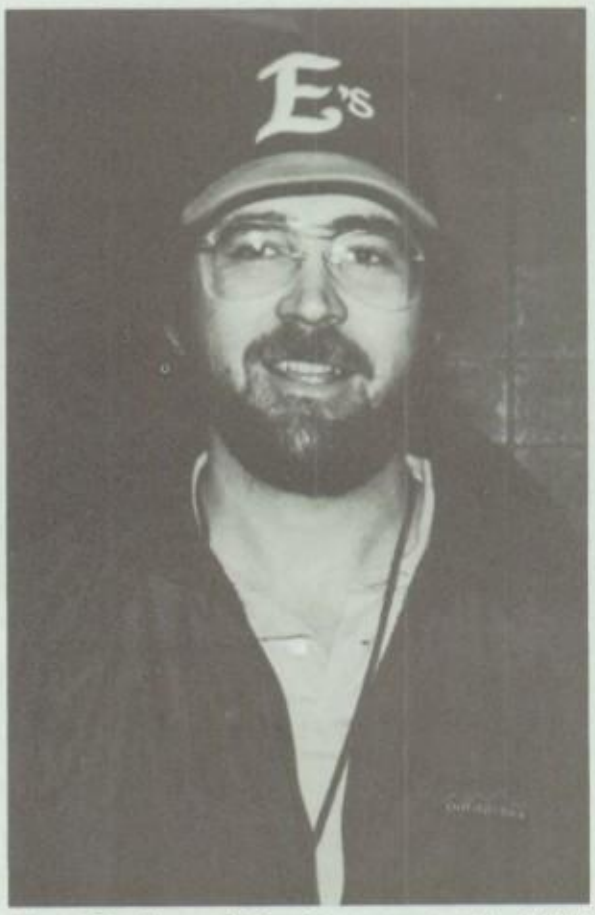
Marching Eagles Band plays at halftime of a home football game.

P.E. and Health - Let's Keep Physical



Mr. Marshall Schafferkoetter, Health/Head Basketball/Tennis Coach

Ms. Debbie Waugh, P.E.



Mr. Ed Lipe, P.E. Department Head/J.V. Basketball/Baseball Coach

Stretching can be fun?

Watch the birdie, girls!

Chief of Police Randy Counts lectures on drunk driving and demonstrates the breath analyzer test in Health.

SHS has always been known to have produced excellent athletes throughout the years. This tradition has been kept because of the physical education department at SHS.

With the help of such classes as Physical Education, Lifetime Sports, Physical Fitness and Health, the SHS Physical Education Department helps keep the students of SHS fit and beautiful.

Special Services Give a Helping Hand

Ms. Cindy Scherrer

Mr. Loyal Gunderson

Ms. Cindy Carlton, instructor, assists Charles Immekus with homework.

Ms. Ruby Manning

Ms. Sandy Majchzrak

Nancy, Beth, and Sandy enjoy a game of Uno.

Mrs. Thelma Kramer

Norma Whalen, Vivian Whalen, and Judy Hoevelmann

Mrs. Lola Bell

Thelma Kramer, Ruby Witt, Jean Webb, Tina Witt, Carolyn Roberts, Norma Spindler

Many students enjoy lunch in the snack bar.
